

Morning and Evening Star,

OFFICES, 335, STRAND.

68

London, 12th Sept 1856.

THE "MORNING STAR," a First-class Daily Paper, is published for despatch to all parts of the Kingdom, by the early morning trains, and may be obtained from all newsmen. Price ONE PENNY.

THE "EVENING STAR," a First-class Evening Paper, is published at half-past three in the afternoon, and contains the latest monetary, metropolitan and foreign news up to that hour; it is despatched by post the same evening, so as to be delivered in all parts of England on the following morning. Price ONE PENNY; or stamped, TWO-PENCE.

Subscriptions for either Paper (stamped copies) 13s. per quarter, payable in advance.

Printed prospectuses forwarded to persons who may be interested in promoting the circulation of these Papers.

Post Office orders payable at Charing Cross, to John Baxter Langley, 335, Strand, London. Letters on business to be addressed "To the Manager." Communications having reference to literary or political matters to be directed "To the Editor."

(Private)

My dear Sir

I send you a copy of the Lady's Newspaper containing the introduction to an Autobiography of a captivity slave which I have undertaken to edit in that journal. The Lady's Newspaper is widely circulated among the ladies of England. I rejoice at this opportunity to inculcate them with Anti-Slavery sentiments. When the Narrative, with its supplementary

Chapters, is completed, to will be published in one volume; I should ~~esteem it a great~~ favour if you would kindly permit me to dedicate it to you. The Empire, of which I was the last Editor is defunct. "I could "a tale unfold" of the money which has been sunk in that ill-fated Contemporary of yours.

Mr. Thompson, I regret to say, has been visited with such a severe attack of bilious fever at Calcutta that he has been compelled to go to Ceylon, where he is now reclaiming his shattered health. His Pilgrimage to the East is likely to be successful in every respect.

Since the decease of the Empire I have become sub. editor of the Morning Star - an important field of usefulness; my hands are full of work.

With true respects,

I (and my wife) remain

Ever Yours truly,

J. W. Chepman

Wm Lloyd Garrison Esq

Would you be so good as to send the Liberator, in future, to my private address as follows:

17 Hansard Place,
Kensington
London
